Mission Statement

The purpose of the Johnston Historical Society is to bring people together who are interested in the history and preservation of the Johnston area. The Johnston area included the settlements of Johnston Station, Beaver Creek Settlement, Dodge City, Huntsville, Herrold, and Ridgedale.

We invite you to become a member of the Johnston Historical Society. Your membership will help us to achieve this purpose.

Location

The Johnston Historical Society Museum is located in a century old house located at 6161 Northglenn Drive just west of the Johnston Library.

Activities

The historical society maintains this beautiful Museum in which many historical items and much information are being preserved.

The society is also involved in community activities. Historical displays are currently located at the Camp Dodge Freedom Center and Johnston City Hall.

The Society can always use volunteers for any number of jobs at the museum. Contact us if interested.

Membership

Membership meetings, which include social activities and presentations, are held periodically.

Members also receive a newsletter. This is sent four times a year. Members of all ages who want to learn and help record the past of the Johnston area are always welcome.
